Our Policies and Service

READ BEFORE ORDERING

DELIVERIES—Our trucks make several free deliveries within 150 miles of Roanoke during planting season—get your orders in early to catch these deliveries.

TERMS—Unlike most types of business, the average turnover of our stock is four and a half years. In other words, we are that length of time in getting our money back even when the goods are sold on a cash basis. For this reason our terms are cash with order, unless otherwise arranged.

PLANTS FREE OF DISEASE—A state certificate of inspection, with planting instructions, accompanies each shipment, assuring its freedom from insect pests and disease. We are members of the American Association of Nurserymen and the Virginia Association of Nurserymen.

We carry a complete line of insecticides, fertilizers, porch boxes, garden tools, etc.

THE HEDGE LAWN NURSERY

agrees to resupply, F. O. B. their Nursery, at one-half the original price paid for any plants sold within published prices that may die within one year from date of invoice from any causes other than abuse or neglect. Two reservations are made: 1 — That cash accompany this order. 2 — That in event we shall not have in stock at the time, for replacement, plants like those originally supplied, or are prevented by strikes, quarantine, or other conditions beyond our control, from making shipments of plants needed for replacement, then we are to apply the amount of credit to which the customer is entitled toward the purchase of other plants that he may at the time select and which we can supply.

PLANTING THE GARDEN

You'll find few diversions more delightful than the simple acts of planting and caring for a garden. If you have not already, now is the time to plant those varieties that you have seen this summer on other lawns and envied for your own. If you haven't, no better time will ever come to tap the treasure-trove of beauty and the richest enjoyment that exists right at your doorstep.

Hedges Beautify as They Serve

For boundary, screen or barrier there is nothing more pleasing than a hedge fence. With their bright green leaves they constantly bring a feeling inspired by the fresh foliage of spring. When formally trained or left to develop naturally their arched branches, colored foliage and bright berries are surely more pleasing than the mechanical effect obtained by the similar use of wood or metal. Most hedges are permanent and with the exception of occasional shearing they need little attention after being established.

PLANTING

The distances vary according to the conditions. Where an impenetrable hedge is wanted, plant the Privets 6-10 inches, Japan Barberry 8-12 inches and the flowering shrubs 12-18 inches apart. Where height is wanted rather than thickness then double the distance. The size of stock purchased will make but little difference in planting distance. In planting, place as deeply or slightly deeper in the trench than they stood in the nursery row and firm well. Most hedges should be severely pruned at planting time. It seems as though you are cutting away good wood but to encourage growth from the bottom it is necessary to do this.

The after pruning should consist of clipping the young growth at regular intervals. There is no special time except it might be well to avoid late pruning in the fall, as this encourages young growth that is frequently killed by severe weather.

We Have Many Varieties of Hedge Plants in Various Sizes

OTHER HEDGE PLANTS

We offer Spireas, Altheas, Hydrangeas, Abelias and other blooming plants in hedge sizes. Write for prices.

CALIFORNIA PRIVET

Ligustrum Ovalifolium—A semi-evergreen hedge with thick, shining, leathery leaves, that grows very rapidly, can be pruned into any formal effect and planted by every one needing a quick hedge without much expense and trouble. It blooms in spring, the fragrant white flowers being noticeable for some distance. In planting it is a good idea to cut away practically all the tops of the smaller plants in order to get a bushy hedge. We have quantities of this desirable variety.

REGEL'S PRIVET

Ibota Regelianum—This is the hardiest of the Privets we sell. It is semi-drooping in growth, making thick hedges from the ground line, growing 6-8 feet, if left unsheared. Those wanting real permanency, or privacy, where a low hedge is wanted, plant this one.

Garden Ware

A superior furniture for garden and interior decoration. White flint sand, mixed with cement, moulded into artistic shapes and properly seasoned. The result is a garden furniture of fine appearance, equal in hardness and wearing quality to natural stone. It is both weather-proof and time-proof. It keeps for a lifetime the delicate tracery as well as the sharp detail of its design. It is finished in gray to resemble granite, or in white to resemble marble and the resemblance is strikingly good. This ware has the advantage of being much less expensive than either of these stones.
